PQC awarded IDIQ contract under CAC Omnibus

Fort Wayne, IN – Prairie Quest was one of five small business teams awarded an analytical studies and technical support contract with the Combined Arms Center of the Army. This contract is better known as CAC Omnibus and spans 18 functional areas ranging from military research/analysis, education development and training, software development, and IT support.

The estimated value of this five year contract is $5,200,000. The Combined Arms Center in Fort Leavenworth, KS is often referred to as the “Intellectual Center of the Army” due to the organization’s training and research focus. Prairie Quest’s comprehensive, winning team consists of the following partners: Camber, Digital Consulting Services (DCS), Mission Essential Personnel (MEP), Spherion, and TASC.

Prairie Quest is an award-winning professional services firm with an impressive track record of public and private sector contracts. With a wealth of experience and expertise, PQC provides innovative, cost-effective solutions in project management, acquisition management, advisory and assistance services, business process analysis, training, and technology services. They currently work with the Army, Air Force, Navy, National Guard, and Census Bureau as a federal contractor.
